ATTEND the revival meetings this evening.

THE Decatur String Band played for a high toned party at Mena last night, and will play again at Benoit Friday night.

HAVE you taken a chance in that handsome bed-room set to be voted away at the firemen's fair at the fair? One ticket costs only 25 cents.

W. Z. BROWN says the residents in and about "Brownville" are "all torn up" about that chicken straining case. It is the sensation of the year in that section.

CALL for Schneider's celebrated Bohemian cigars, sold by all first-class dealers.

By a unanimous vote of the members of the A. O. H. Brass Band, Prof. Leon and will be their instructor for the future.

CLINTON has a case of varioloid on hand. The victim is a woman who came there from Bloomington.

SALE of reserved seats for "Hazel Kirke" will open at Curtis & Co's tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. The scale of prices is: General admission, 50 and 75 cents; reserved seats, $1.00.

The meeting of the contributors to the library book fund will be held in the office of Mr. G. M. Wood, county treasurer, on Friday evening.

EVERY act in the play of "Hazel Kirke" is embellished by scenery which the company transports from their home theatre—no evidence of their determination to give a fine performance.

THE Macon County Co-operative Association, which lately did business at the "Grange Store," have sold their stock of agricultural implements to Moline manufacturers.

THERE will be another great time on roller skates at the tabernacle to-night. The theatre band will be present, and everybody entering the door will have one chance to win a handsome album.

JAMES SMITH, the party who stole the chickens from W. Z. Brown's hen house, last Friday night, will have a full-length preliminary hearing before Justice Lowry on Friday next. Part of the story was heard on yesterday afternoon. In default of $300 bail the prisoner was recommitted to the custody of Sheriff Foster.

"THE DRESSER," the noblest and latest style hat, to be had only at

THE 25 magnificent costumes for the operatic and dramatic entertainment for the organ fund Thursday evening will arrive from Chicago this evening. All those taking part will please be on hand at the distribution. We advise those who have not secured seats, to do so at once at O. E. Curtis & Co's.

THE preliminary hearing of the confessed bigamist, Alva Biel, who married his niece, has been put off until Thursday, Feb. 21, at 1 p. m. before Justice Corley. The bail was fixed at $300, in default of which he was recommitted to the county jail.

DECATUR, Springfield, Bloomington, Clinton, Elgin, Tipton, Pima, Taylorville, Monticello, Champaign, and all the towns in Macon county, ought to be connected by telephone.

THERE are no departments in dry goods which deserve more consideration from ladies than Hosiery, Gloves and Corsets, and it will surprise those who would walk five blocks to save 1 cent on a yard of calico, when we assure them that many of these articles are retailed from 25 to 50 per cent higher than we sell them.

ABOVE the rush for seats for "Hazel Kirke" by securing the same at once. This celebrated play is announced for next Monday evening, one night only, and the only representation here this season.

A Noted Horse-Thief with a Brilliant Record Gone Up for Two Years.

Marshal Hayes has kindly furnished us with a copy of the Terre Haute (Ind.) Daily Express of Feb. 14th, which contains the satisfying intelligence that the notorious horse-thief, Alexander Arnold, who stole two horses from Millard Russell and Frank Beall, near Decatur, on the night of January 7th, has gone to the Indiana penitentiary for a term of two years for stealing a horse in that state.

Arnold, while in the Terre Haute jail, became communicative on seeing that his career as a horse-thief had been cut short, and confessed that since June 4, 1881, he had stolen and sold no less than forty horses. The Express gives the full details of Arnold's operations in a three-column article. He first stole a horse at Martinsville, Ind., and sold it to Meyers, at Springfield, Ill.; at Brazil, Ind., he stole Doctor Morgan's horse and buggy and traded the horse to George Randall, near Atwood, Ill.; he stole a horse from Barney Dougherty, at Terre Haute, and sold him to a farmer living near Kenney, in DeWitt county, this state; from J. C. Hicklin, of Terre Haute, Arnold stole a horse, and this animal was traded for another at Summit, Vermilion county, Ill.; he stole a mare from Samuel Seymour, near Jacksonville, Ill., on Sept. 7th, and sold her at Casey, Ill.; at Jasper, Ind., he stole a fine bay mare from H. Bolter, and in the latter part of September he stole a horse from this section, which has since been recovered; on Sept. 28th, at Jensevill, Ill., while Barnum's show was making a parade, Arnold stole a horse and buggy belonging to John R. Beatty from the rack, and while on his way to Homer, Ill., the modern Dick Turpin stole a set of harness from a farmer. He was pursued for stealing the harness and a constable got away with the whole outfit, Arnold making his escape. The night he got away he stole a fine grey pacer mare from H. D. Oliver, a farmer, which was subsequently sold by Arnold at Knightsville, Knox county, Ill.; he stole a mare at Morton, Ill., a fine brood mare from a farmer named Bernad, near Pima, Ill.; an iron gray horse from the commons at Shelbyville, Ill.; a mare at Dexter, Ill.; a bay mare from Rev. McFadden, at Windsor, Ill.; a bay mare from a litching rack at Hume, Ill.; a bay mare from Tuscola, Ill.; a horse and buggy from Danville Junction, Ill.; a brown mare from Charleston, Ill.; two horses stolen from Sullivan, Ill.; a bay mare and a Democratic campaign wagon from Will county, Ill., which Arnold sold at Aurora, Ill.; a bay mare from a man named Hancock, at Humboldt, Ill.; and in another raid on Decatur, Ill., Arnold stated that he had stolen a spring wagon and two horses, which he sold in Southern Illinois. He also stole a bay mare from John Perry, at Lincoln, Ill., on Sept. 1st, and traded her at Mt. Auburn, Ill. Late last fall he stole John Heeny's diamond at Terre Haute.

This is the sort of a man we had doing business about Decatur in the early part of last January. Most of the horses stolen by Arnold, through his voluntary confessions, have been found and returned to their proper owners, and as has already been stated, Russell and Beall are now in possession of their stolen animals, having recovered them through the efforts of Sheriff Foster and Marshal Hayes, on whose information the Terre Haute officials were successful in capturing Arnold. The Express says that of the 34 horses which Arnold "gave away" to the officers, 15 or more have been found and returned to their owners. The Express states that it has information that Arnold some years ago was sentenced to serve 18 years in the Illinois penitentiary, but he played the insanity dodge and procured a pardon from Gov. Cullom. Arnold is said to be respectfully connected, and he therefore persistently refused to reveal any of his antecedents.

In appearance, the Express describes him as about of the medium height, with dark hair, sandy mustache, and blue eyes. He has gone to prison for two years on one charge and when his time is out, he will have regular business in various criminal courts in Illinois and Indiana, as long as he shall live. He is represented as a no-one kind of a customer, and laughed and joked as he left Terre Haute chained to a sentenced cattle thief. He was a disreputable fellow and spent considerable money in saloons and at gaming.

OBITUARY.

Death of "Little Tot" Mowry.

FORSYTH, ILL., FEB. 15, 1882.

A sad gloom has been cast over our citizens by the death of the youngest son of H. C. and Henrietta Mowry, which occurred at half-past ten this morning, after an illness of ten days with typhoid fever, complicated the last two days with acute peritonitis. "Little Tot," as he was familiarly known, was about 5 years old, quick and impulsive in his actions, but kind, affectionate, and sympathetic to all he knew. He had developed rare intellect for one of his age, and was a child of a promising future. And though his suffering was great, he bore it with a resignation and firmness that would be praiseworthy in one of mature years. His death was clear to the last moments of his life, and his last words were, "I'm going off on the cars."

He will be buried in Greenwood cemetery at Decatur to-morrow, the 16th. "Little Tot" will be sadly missed and mourned by all who knew him.

Not lost, most thought, he was only given a bird on a stick to bloom in heaven.

Mrs. JOHN OAKES, the accomplished harpist and bell ringer with Oakes Bros. Concert Company, has just had completed a rich and beautiful garnet silk and satin stage dress, made by Mrs. J. H. Krebs, whose dressmaking rooms are over Flory's store. The dress, which has been seen by many amusement goers, is pronounced a work of perfection, and reflects much credit upon the superior taste of Mrs. Krebs, the maker. We learn that Mrs. Krebs will retire from the dressmaking business within the next two weeks, she having sold her furniture and business to Mrs. Kate Einstein, who will open a suite of dressmaking rooms in her millinery emporium about March 1st, and place Miss Maggie Walsh in charge as forewoman.

NUMEROUS meetings connected with the union religious revival in progress at the First M. E. church are held every day, and in the evening the lecture room is crowded with members of the congregation and others interested in the services, which are nightly growing in interest and profit. So far there have been 15 conversions. Last evening Rev. W. M. Mueggli occupied the pulpit and preached a stirring discourse. Those who have not attended these meetings should do so tonight. All are cordially invited to come, hear the sermons, and assist in the congregational singing.

Attention, Knight Templars.

Regular convocation of Beaumont Commandery No. 9, K. T., Thursday evening, Feb. 16th, at 7 1/2 o'clock. Business of importance. A full attendance requested.

The Shooting Tournament in Progress in the Ravine Opposite Greenwood Cemetery.

The long talked of prize shooting tournament, given under the auspices of the Decatur Shooting Club, is now in progress in the old tan-yard ravine at the foot of South Water street. By 10 o'clock this forenoon, at which hour it was advertised the prize shooting would commence, over 100 competitors and spectators had gathered on the grounds. The shooting did not commence until after 11 o'clock, the time being taken up in making necessary preparations for the contest.

A large pen was made in which were placed the turkeys, but the gobblers did not like it and a number of them took up their quarters in the tree tops. They were brought down with rifles.

THE following are the names of the visiting clubs, besides the members of the Decatur Club, at the tournament:

Moawqua Club—S. P. Shepherd, A. Snyder and W. R. McHenry.

Clinton Club—H. P. Mills, W. W. Hall, M. Humphrey, P. Sprague and A. E. Humphrey.

GLASS BALL SHOOTING.

The contest this forenoon and afternoon was glass ball shooting for 10 turkeys. The Parker trap from which the balls were sprung was placed at a distance of 30 yards. Arthur Lawrence, of Elkhart, Ind., shot a possible 25; Dan Humphrey, of Hallsville, 24 out of 25.

The tournament is just fairly under way as we go to press.

A Watch Thief in Quod.

Last night Michael Mooney, a member of the Wabash bridge gang, and John Barnett, a Wabash fireman, slept together in the same room at Mrs. Hutchinson's boarding house on the Levee. Barnett had a silver watch and a gold-plated chain last night, but during the quiet hours of the night they had been removed from his chest, and the finger of suspicion pointed at Mooney as the thief.

Mooney was arrested this morning by Officers Brockway and Acker and searched. In one of the prisoner's boots was found the stolen watch and he was thereupon moved to Justice Albert's office.

THE brief examination of the watch upon Mooney and he was held to await the action of the grand jury. His bail was fixed at $500, in default of which he was committed to the county jail.

THE Organ Fund Entertainment Thursday evening.

The ever popular comedy "Faint Heart never won Fair Lady," was first presented at Her Majesty's Theatre in London in 1877, and like so many of Mr. Plancher's works still ranks among the choicest light comedies. The standard and charming Vandeville, "The Lion of a Lover," is by the same author and was first presented at the same theatre in 1840, with unbroken success. It still maintains a front rank in the repertoire of our best comedians. The spectacular operetta of "Sleeping Princess" is founded on the well-known German story and is for the first time presented in Decatur, with magnificent costumes and accessories.

Mrs. E. D. Porter who is well-known as a former pupil at St. Theresa academy, Decatur, took the leading role in both comedies and Prof. E. D. Wright, an amateur of unusual ability, is well-known to all lovers of art in Decatur.

A New Farmer's Store.

The attention of our readers is called to the fact that Mr. G. W. McClelland and Mr. Will Gilkeson have opened a new agricultural store in the large room lately occupied by Skelly & Co., on the south side of the city park, and are now doing business under the firm name of McClelland & Gilkeson. The firm handles all kinds of the best agricultural implements, farming machinery, farm wagons and buggies, all styles. The stock now on hand is large and varied, and farmers and others needing anything in their line will find it to their interest to give McClelland & Gilkeson a call before purchasing elsewhere.

A Merry Masquerade.

Those who fail to attend the Prof. Leonard second masquerade ball at Gunter's Armory to-morrow night will miss one of the most enjoyable parties of the season. A costume from Peoria has arrived in Decatur for the express purpose of supplying parties with fine outfits at a nominal cost. The best costumed lady and gentleman present will be given a handsome prize, said prize to be awarded by a committee composed of disinterested persons, and the most ridiculous costumed persons will also be given a prize. In addition to these prizes a third prize will be given by the Professor, and all who enter the hall will have one chance to win it. The Decatur String Band, recently organized, will furnish music for the party.

Two Nights Fair.

The special attention of our readers is again called to the grand fair and festival that will be given at the tabernacle, on Thursday and Friday evenings, for the benefit of Eldorado Hose Co. No. 2. About all the necessary arrangements for this big affair are completed, and an immense crowd is expected to be in attendance on both evenings, when supper will be served at 25 cents. A grand public dinner will be served on Friday at 35 cents. Among the articles that will be voted away, will be a beautiful gold-headed cane, a silver tea set, a bed-room set and a Majestic ten set. Enlivening band music will fill the room each evening.

THE COMMITTEES.

The following named ladies are at the head of the affair:

Mrs. F. M. Cox, president; Mrs. T. L. Antin, vice president; Mrs. John A. Barnes, secretary; Mrs. J. D. Shaffer, treasurer.

Dinner Committee—Mrs. Lou Hart, Mrs. Thomas Doyle, Mrs. Harry Gillis, Mrs. R. L. Perry, Mrs. J. B. Shellabarger, Mrs. L. L. Haworth, Mrs. W. W. Foster, Mrs. J. A. Barnes, Mrs. Isaac Shellabarger, Mrs. G. D. Haworth, Mrs. H. P. Christie, Mrs. D. Demorest, Mrs. E. D. Eldridge, Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Mrs. J. R. Shaffer and Mrs. Henry Stafford.

During the evenings Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Shaffer and Mrs. P. Loch will have charge of the supper table; Mrs. J. E. Shellabarger, Mrs. L. L. Haworth, Mrs. Theo. Nelson and Mrs. John A. Swearingen, of the ice cream tables; Mrs. Gillis, Mrs. W. H. Gipson, Mrs. John Beall, Mrs. Frank Payne and Mrs. Phillips, of the oyster tables; Mrs. Mary Cook and Miss Alice Hawkes, of the confection table; Mrs. Morrison, Misses Laura Payne, Mollie Shoemaker and Jennie Morrison, of the fancy table.

Ladies.

An elegant lot of hosiery is being sold at a great sacrifice at the Popular New York Store. All goods must be got out of the way of the carpenters during the next few days.

WOOLEN UNDERWEAR, Hosiery, Cardigan Jackets, etc., must be closed out at Fleury, the French Cutter, corner of Old Square.

The Social Party Given by the Rescues Last Night an Immense Success.

As was repeatedly predicted in these columns the St. Valentine's dancing party and reception given by the Decatur Rescue Hose Co. No. 1, in Grand Armory last night, was a grand success, socially and financially. The popularity of this famous hose company, which includes in its membership the renowned champion hose running team of the world, the only team on the face of the globe that has a record of 41 1/2 seconds in a 300 yards run, was shown by the sale of 300 tickets at a dollar each, and by the attendance of nearly 75 couples. The party was one of the finest and most enjoyable dances the Rescues have ever given, and the refreshments served at intermission at Wood Bros' restaurant were in keeping with the affair, which was given under the management of C. W. Hartley, Fred Mueller and Fred Litterer, arrangement committee; A. N. Diehl, C. P. Housum, J. S. Hewes, P. B. Provost and Frank Winebremer, invitation; W. W. Foster, H. W. Downing, Geo. R. Brett and Fred W. Willis' reception; and Geo. W. Kraft, Caleb Smith, John DeFries, James H. O'Neill and William Hawley, floor managers. On the handsome Valentine program were 22 dances, for which Prof. Goodman's full orchestra furnished enlivening strains, set to the following copyrighted music: Bullwinkle's Patrol, Grand Review, Off for Muscote, "Get there Eli," False Alarm, How is your Vaccination, Oh My Arm, How do we suffer, Time 41 1/2, In Dugan, Our Champions, Litterer and Brett, Out Mead Geniel, Ladies' Choice, Out Dugan, Long Tow, Don't Shave, Take up your Slack, Mulberry Sellers, Success at Chicago '82, Who takes the Cake, Our Captain, Scheming Robinson, Come Again Sunday Night Darling.

Come Out of Business.

The "Macon County Co-operative Association," of which Geo. G. Harnsberger is president, Milton Clark, secretary, and P. F. Lehman, treasurer, has gone out of the agricultural implement business, having disposed of the entire stock of implements to Deere, Mansur & Co., and Deere & Co. of Moline, Ill., on the first day of the present month. The association, which now has a membership of 300 farmers, who reside in Macon county, went into the agricultural implement business in Decatur seven years ago, and has done a business aggregating nearly $500,000 during that time. Decatur was made one of the shipping points in Illinois for the Moline firms now in charge, and the association did their business here, besides supplying their own trade. The gentlemen now in charge of the stock for the Moline manufacturers named are Reed Spencer as manager, Frank Lehman and Charles Green. The Co-operative Association has simply gone out of business. It has not disbanded. Mr. P. F. Lehman, the treasurer, is now at the old store south of the Palace hotel office, and is engaged in setting up the affairs of the association of which he is a member. The association has a number of creditors, and it is Mr. Lehman's business to make collections.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Jeanette Bowers is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Powers, at Jacksonville.

Miss Louie Zingari, of St. Louis, is the guest of her friend, Miss Litterer. She will return home to-morrow.

"Cap," the modest looking Western Union telegraph operator, got four too valentines yesterday, and he is adding to know who sent them.

Miss Annie Culp, who has been visiting relatives at Bloomington and Jacksonville for nearly six months, has returned to her home in this city.

Springfield, Mo., Mrs. H. L. Olor and Mrs. John Tyler, of Decatur, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Miller, and witnessed the dedication at the new Christian church.

Justice Curtis, his many friends will be pleased to learn, has recovered from his recent severe illness. He came down town this noon for the first time in 12 days, and in his office ready for business again.

P. B. Provost left for Cincinnati last night over the St. Louis division of the I. & W. He goes there on business, and will probably realize his desire, to which he is not yet ready to give publicity.

Miss Alma Morgan, the gifted elocutionist, passed through Decatur yesterday en route for her home at Springfield. Miss Morgan gave a second reading before a packed house at Taylorville Friday evening.

Mark Wood, who has been one of the lightning distributors in the Western Union Telegraph office under Manager Getty during the past two months, departed for his home at Bucabel, Wis., last night. He retires for the benefit of his health. W. B. Newell has taken Mr. Wood's place.

Chicago Drivers Journal: W. F. Montgomery, of Decatur, Ill., was at the yards last week, and had sold at $6.50 a load of choice steers that averaged 1,400 pounds. They were raised and fed by him. E. E. Virgin, of Mason City, Ill., was in with a car of 1,380 lb. steers which sold at $5.90.

Remarkable.

Linu & Scruggs have furnished with carpets nearly every new house in Decatur within the last few years and sold more carpets last year than was ever sold in Decatur in one year.
